

LDC 5-1: Winning the War on Talent

ABSTRACT

We are in the middle of a war on talent. In this fight, we have the opportunity to significantly influence our staff and potential staff at three specific points in their employment lifecycle – identifying talent, hiring talent and retaining talent. “Winning the War on Talent” was created to be an education resource on how organizations can be laser-focused when committing to talent as priority. It discusses:

- Hiring top talent and the importance in responding.
- Identifying top talent and the art of listening.
- Retaining top talent and the power of connecting.
