WHO WE ARE

The Land Development Coalition (LDC) represents the unique needs of firms that offer land development, site/civil and geotechnical services. The goal of the coalition is to strengthen the business environment and image of land development with clients, agencies and other engineering professionals.

WHAT WE DO

LDC members focus on providing quality land use and site development services (including surveying/geotechnical consulting) for both the private and public sectors. LDC works with other industry associates outside of the engineering realm, and acts as an advocate for member firms, addressing the issues influencing surveying, geotechnical consulting, and traditional site development.

OUR MISSION

To strengthen the business environment for member firms, focusing on quality professional land development services in a competitive global marketplace.

WHY YOU SHOULD JOIN

By connecting with other land development professionals and sharing best business practices, members are able to improve their management expertise as well as increase business efficiency and overall profitability.
