RBF Consulting's Bill Green to Receive National Community Service Award

WASHINGTON, D.C.—William (Bill) Green, senior vice president/regional manager at RBF Consulting, a company of the Michael Baker Corporation, in Temecula, Calif., will be presented a 2012 Community Service Award from the American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) at the upcoming ACEC Fall Conference in Boca Raton, Fla., on October 16.

The award recognizes a principal or manager of an ACEC member firm who has made outstanding contributions to the quality of life in his or her community.

Green has a 30-year-long record of exemplary community involvement in the Temecula area. He has served in leadership positions with the Temecula Valley Chamber Economic Development Committee, the National Exchange Club of Rancho/Temecula, and the Temecula Rotary Club. An Eagle Scout himself, Green also has been both a Cub and Scoutmaster, and is currently an executive board member for the California Empire Boy Scouts of America. He also is a manager of a youth hockey team.

He was appointed by former Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger to the California Water Quality Control Board, and has been recognized by the California State Senate and the California State Assembly for his honesty, integrity, professionalism and leadership.

Green also is a veteran in the California Air National Guard.

The American Council of Engineering Companies (ACEC) is the business association of America's engineering industry, representing more than 5,000 independent engineering companies throughout the United States engaged in the development of America's transportation, environmental, industrial, and other infrastructure. Founded in 1909 and headquartered in Washington, D.C., ACEC is a national federation of 51 state and regional organizations.
